

My Dear Friends,

Aug. 8th, 2008

My days have been so busy assisting the many people coming to The Time is Now for help. Here is a short synopsis of just a few of the many that have touched my heart:

A Single mom with two children, her husband left six months ago. They had very little food, their car was broke down, and the children needed clothes.

An elderly woman was being taken advantage of by a dishonest contractor, who put liens on her house so a friend of the contractor can get her house. Both men scared the elderly lady out of her home, destroyed and damaged the house to the point of being inhabitable. She had hardly any food, her car was breaking down, and all the stress was leaving her in a mental turmoil.

A mentally handicapped man was trying to live alone, with no help, and no government assistance. He was hungry and alone. Our government puts mentally handicapped individuals in this position. There are thousands who are denied help.

An elderly widow, her grown children abandoned her many years ago. She was low on food, her refrigerator had been broken for six months, and she needed to network for transportation.

A Grandmother, disabled mother and four grandchildren were all living together without electricity or hot water. The father of the children had left years ago. Their electricity had been turned off for two months, the old water heater had rusted through, they were boiling water to bathe and do dishes.

In every situation, together, we did God's will: we supplied food, restored utilities, provided a used car, obtained an attorney to set things right, requested the government to do what is right for someone incapable of asking for themselves. We would not take no for an answer or accept excuses.

Together we removed the pain and suffering of poverty. I listened to crying and sobbing as their pain was exposed through my investigations. In all cases we gave hope and provided the reality that someone cares as we came through with 100% fulfillment of promises made and all done NOW. When God puts our fellow creations before us we need to react with compassion and the determination to accomplish what we set out to do, show God's love.

Health and Happiness, God Bless Everyone, WC
